

Accelerated Graduate Program Student Agreement

Accelerated graduate programs blend the fourth year of the undergraduate degree and the first year of the master's degree. These programs have been created for high-achieving and high-quality students who have the ability to complete a bachelor's and a master's at an accelerated pace. If you are accepted by both the Office of Graduate Studies at the University of Missouri and the graduate program, you will be admitted as a provisional graduate student the graduate program's Accelerated Graduate Program. Once you obtain 120 hours, you will become a graduate student, which gives you the rights and responsibilities of all graduate students at the University of Missouri.

Students being considered for an accelerated graduate program must have a cumulative GPA of greater than 3.5 and have completed at least 90 credit hours, which includes all general education and academic program requirements.
